

Department of Pediatrics
Section of Pulmonology

Clinical Care Center
6701 Fannin, Ste. 1040
Houston, Texas 77030
Tel: 832-822-3300
FAX: 832-825-3308

To Whom It May Concern,

We were delighted to have Jacob Greene as a featured speaker at our Cystic Fibrosis Family Education Day on April 2, 2016. As a patient with CF, Jacob has a unique perspective on living life with a chronic illness. But he is also a teenager with an incredible drive to be the best he can be. His message was a powerful one—how to have CF, but not let CF have you. His life is powerful evidence of compliance and positive energy and attitude. His daily routine is stressful and challenging enough with honors courses, athletics, and Eagle Scout activities, but he still manages to find time to exercise and do his CF care.

The families in attendance were very appreciative of his message and many commented how encouraged they were by his presentation. He is an inspirational role model and we would recommend him for anyone looking for a solid, down-to-earth young man with wisdom and strength beyond his years.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Fadel Ruiz".

Fadel Ruiz, MD
Assistant Professor of Pediatrics
Interim Director, Cystic Fibrosis Care Center
Baylor College of Medicine